

UPCEA PCO Professional Certificate Program

Why I Chose This Program

I registered for the UPCEA Certificate program to broaden my understanding of PCO enterprises. As Associate Director for Faculty Development in the Center for Teaching and Learning (CTL) at UNC Charlotte, I am increasingly called on to support new directions in the higher education teaching and learning landscape.

My Experience

The certificate courses have been imminently practical, broadening my perspective on lifelong learning, providing an opportunity to develop proposals to solve challenges in my current role, and expanding my professional network.

I thoroughly enjoyed all the courses in the certificate program. The instructors are simply fantastic and I am growing my network in this PCO area.

I encourage Faculty Development and Distance Ed professionals to consider taking the courses in this program for themselves

Would You Recommend This Program?

I couldn't be happier with this experience. I encourage Faculty Development and Distance Ed professionals to consider taking the courses in this program for themselves.

<https://upcea.edu/learning-center>

Heather McCullough, Ph.D.
Director, Learning Technology and Open Education, Division of Academic Affairs
The University of North Carolina System